News Digest.

HICKS, the first pirate, now under sentence of death, in New York, for murdering the captain and crew of an oyster sloop, has made a full confession.

The Japanese Embassy took final leave of the President, on Wednesday, and were the recipients of numerous gifts. Their stay in the country will be prolonged some two or three weeks.

Five-Hundred Justice.

In our report of proceedings in the Municipal Court, yesterday morning, appeared the following:

John Shanks—John Shanks, illegal voting. Sentenced to one year in State prison.

We learn that JOHN SHANKS is a journeyman Baker, and for some time in the employ of Alderman JOHNSTON, of the Fourth Ward. JOHN, unfortunately, is sometimes addicted to drink, and was "sent up" for 30 days, about the 1st of March, for a breach of the peace. Regaining his liberty two days before election, he got on a spree and on election day, being in liquor, voted twice; for which offence he was indicted, tried, convicted and sentenced to "one year in the State prison."

At the same election our U. S. Marshal, Mr J. H. LEWIS voted illegally. He, too, was tried, but acquitted, substantially on the ground that he did not know he was violating the law. Very likely not. But neither did JOHN SHANKS. The Marshal was in his sober senses. JOHN was beside himself. Why then is JOHN sent to State Prison for one year, while the United States Marshal goes scot free? It was sworn to, on SHANKS' trial, that he was so drunk, on election day, that he did not know what he was about.—Neither did the United States Marshal. Yet the one is sentenced to Waupun for a year, and the other is acquitted! Call you this even-handed justice? Fair play is a jewel. As Mr. LEWIS has been let off JOHN SHANKS is clearly entitled to equal lenity; unless, indeed, we hold, with SHAKSPEARE:

"That is the Captain's (Marshal) but a valorous word, Watch in the Soldier (Baker) is rank blasphemy!"

Important Postal Notice.

The Postmaster General has issued instructions to Postmasters to the effect that on and after the 1st of June the postage upon all transient printed matter, foreign and domestic, must be FULLY PREPAID BY UNITED STATES POSTAGE STAMPS, except in cases where prepayment on letters, etc., to foreign countries is optional, and the senders do not wish to pre-pay.

Persons mailing letters, newspapers, etc., whether domestic, or to foreign countries, should therefore ascertain at the office of mailing, what is the exact postage in each case, and affix to the covers United States postage stamps of sufficient value to prepay the full postage chargeable thereon.

It would be well for the public to bear in mind that these instructions must be carried out in full, and that in all cases, particularly in reference to transient printed matter, the full postage chargeable thereon must be prepaid, or such matters will be excluded from the mail.

THE GREAT DERBY RACE.—We have some additional particulars, by the Vanderbilt, of this famous event. The leading favorites were, Mr. R. TEN BROECK's American horse "Umpire" and Mr. NICHOLL's "Wizard." It was current in the London papers that Lord PALMERSTON had ventured upon the American horse; while on the morning of the race the betting stood 9 to 4 against "Wizard, and 4 to 1 against "Umpire, and 5 to 1 against "Thormanby," owned by Mr. R. MERRY. A telegram received by Dr. OWEN, the purser of the Vanderbilt, previous to the sailing of the steamer, dated at Epsom, 3:45 p. m., announces that the race was won by "Thormanby," "Wizard" coming in second, and "Horror" (owned by Capt. CHRISTIE,) third, while "Umpire" was the eleventh on the list.

Another report says that "Thormanby" "won easily;" that "Umpire" was "about sixth;" and that "the American party were greatly discouraged"—as well they might be after their hopes had been raised so high.

THE CHAMPIONSHIP AGAIN.—The final settlement of the disputed claim to the belt between HEENAN and SAYERS, does not escape the criticism of the British press. A correspondent of the London Morning Post thus treats the question:

"If SAYERS were equal to maintaining the position of Champion, he ought to have upheld it; so he has led the public to expect he would. If, however, he finds his arm permanently injured, or that from any other cause it is desirable he should give up the belt, he should have done so at once, and openly—stating his reasons—and he might have retired with honor to himself, and satisfaction to his countrymen. As it is at this moment, Heenan is Champion of England—Sayers has retired, and Heenan defends the belt against all comers. This is tantamount to an acknowledgement of defeat by Sayers. If he had made it a little earlier, the people of England—lords and ladies, tinkers and tailors—would not have subscribed £5,000 for the prize hero of the prize ring."

John Bull is gradually settling down to the conviction that, after all the talk, HEENAN fairly won and is fully entitled to the belt.

A COMPROMISE CANDIDATE AT BALTIMORE.—The Concord (N. H.) Democratic Standard says that "events for the last few weeks, point unmistakably to the Hon. DANIEL S. DICKINSON, of New York, as the man on whom the Democratic Convention to re-assemble at Baltimore, on the 18th inst., can readily compromise and unite."

EMANCIPATION OF SEVENTY-FIVE NEGROES.—Mr. A. Cuthbert, from Georgia, son to a former United States Senator of that State, has recently purchased and settled on a farm about four miles northwest of Patterson, N. J., bringing with him five negroes to whom he had given liberty. They are the last of seventy-five emancipated by Mr. Cuthbert, the others having been sent to Liberia through the Colonization Society.

Our Congressional Nomination.

For the Sentinel.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—I have been much pleased with the suggestion for holding a Mass Convention of the Republicans of this Congressional District, for the purpose of ratifying the nominations already effected, and the re-nomination of our esteemed and popular representative, JOHN F. POTTER, and heartily second it; believing his re-election to be the earnest desire of every Republican of the District. I hope the District Committee will gratify what I think the hearty wish of the people for an opportunity to give expression of their warm approbation of his Congressional career.

I would propose Milwaukee as the place of meeting; the point most easy of access from the various towns of the District, and where the largest assemblage could be secured, to start the ball for his return to Congress by an overwhelming majority.

Congressional nominations are already being made in other States, and it seems to me the sooner this meeting is called the better, that Mr. POTTER'S name may be before the public, as it will give additional enthusiasm to the campaign in behalf of our glorious nominees, LINCOLN and HAMLIN.

I would suggest Wednesday, the 27th June, as the day for the meeting, or even earlier if sufficient notice could be given.

What say the Friends of Free Speech and Republicanism in the other counties of the District? Shall we have the meeting?

REPUBLICAN.

MILWAUKEE, June 6.

THE CATTLE DISTEMPER.—The cattle distemper which has been making such havoc among some sections of New England would now seem to be approaching the city of New York. It has already made its appearance in New Jersey, within twelve miles of New York, so that no less than six of the largest dairy and beef producing States have the malady within their borders. We have seen that the combined medical knowledge of New England has been unable to put a check to the distemper, or to even discover the cause of its existence. Contrary to all precedent, this bovine disease does not seem to require a close proximity of the healthy to the affected cattle, in order to communicate the complaint. Instances are cited where herds have been affected fatally, when the nearest known cases were at least eight miles distant. It is demonstrated that the time of exposure to the period when the disease is noticeable, varies from six to fourteen days, and that the stage of the disease when the infected imparts to the healthy the distemper, is shortly after exposure and before the malady assumes a visible aspect. The disease has been known now scarcely twelve months in this country. Yet in that time it has spread to six States, and over thirty localities. More than 800 head of cattle in New England have been slaughtered to prevent the extension of the disease, and over one thousand have died of the contagion. All attempts to check the distemper have been unavailing, and in view of this rapid spread of the contagion, how long will it be ere the pleuro-pneumonia, as it is called, will infect every herd and dairy in the Union?

NASHOTAH THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY, IN WAUKESHA CO.—The Chicago Church Record says: "This admirable institution is now so full that the ordinary contributions of the Church have not been sufficient to support the number of students gathered there. In order to protect it from debt, and to prevent the calamity of turning away from its doors young men willing to devote themselves to the sacred ministry, Bishop KEMPER went to the East, and in a few days raised the sum necessary to carry it through the present year—about $2,500. There is nothing like having the confidence of the Church, and this Nashotah continues to have to a remarkable degree. We trust that her thousands of friends will remember that now since she is so full, and is without any endowment, that she needs more than ever their constant and generous support."

HURRICANE AT PATCH GROVE.—A terrible storm of wind, hail and rain visited the region of Patch Grove, in Grant county, last Tuesday. Great damage was done to property by the wind blowing down fences and outbuildings, and by the hail in breaking windows and injuring crops. Mr. HENRY PATCH alone suffered to the amount of $500. Sheriff FOSTER, who passed through the Grove on Thursday, says that the roads were badly obstructed by broken down down timbee and fencing strewn along the road.

THE STORM IN ROCK COUNTY.—We understand that the storm in Porter was quite severe. A house was unroofed, fences were prostrated, and crops injured to some extent. At Fulton the dam across the Catfish was carried away. Loss about $500. At Evansville a barn belonging to EDWIN BEMIS was blown down.

THE CHAMPION FIGHT.—The two belts, which have been before mentioned in these columns, were presented to HEENAN and SAYERS on the night of May 30, at Cremorne Gardens, London. GEO. WILKES, presented SAYERS with the belt which had been subscribed for him, and Mr. DOWLING presented the belt to HEENAN.

A FAITHFUL POSTMASTER DELEGATE.—It is given out that Mr. SWARR, Postmaster of Lancaster City, Pa., has announced that he would "let his bones rot at Baltimore before he would vote for DOUGLAS." He is a delegate and a faithful postmaster.

DEATH OF HON. SILAS M. BURROUGHS.—Hon. SILAS M. BURROUGHS, M. C. from the Orleans district, New York, died Saturday evening, June 2d. He was buried Tuesday, June 5th.

HEENAN, in a private letter to America, says that he was never married, and that the women who had claimed his name are all impostors.

CHALLENGE TO MORRISSEY.—HEENAN has issued a peremptory challenge to JOHN MORRISSEY, to fight him for any sum from five cents to $5,000.

POLITICAL FOSSILS.—The Albany Evening Journal, referring to Mr. EVERETT'S latest contribution to the press, says:

"Mr. Everett has written a very long letter, telling Ex-Gov. Hunt why he don't want to accept, why he ought not to accept, and why he does accept, the Fossil Nomination for Vice-President.

"The gathering of 'exempts,' or 'ancient and honorable' politicians, at Baltimore, by whom Mr. Everett was nominated, if analyzed, would present a curious spectacle!—All men of mark, in their day, but as much out of fashion now as ruffle-shirts, tights, knee buckles or boot-tassels. All of them having run through their political estates, but protesting against the decision which lays them on the shelf. All expecting high places, because they had once drawn the high prize in a political lottery."

FOR RED RIVER.—The La Crosse Union says, "a company of eight emigrant teams passed over on the ferry boat this afternoon, bound for the Red River of the North. They are mostly from the eastern part of the State, and are provided with good moving stock. They go the whole distance, 300 miles, by land, and expect to reach the Red River region by the middle of July."

THE GREAT TORNADO.

Letter from one on the Ground.

ALBANY, Monday, June 4.

EDITORS TIMES:—I have just returned from Albany, the scene of the tornado which swept over it and Camanche, on the opposite side of the Mississippi river, and although I have read large stories, and heard large stories told of the terrible and wonderful works of a tornado, I must say I have never read or heard of such terrible work, and the greatest wonder of all is, that in the great and universal demolition of everything above the face of earth which came in its way, that there were so few lives lost. In the town of Albany, I should think from the appearance, and the best information I could get, there was about one hundred and fifty houses totally demolished. Brick, stone, wood and granite buildings, fared alike, and were either levelled on the spot, or lifted up, carried, and whirled through the air till they were torn to pieces, and them and their contents scattered among the four winds. Warehouses, steam flouring mills, churches, stores, and all seemed to be upon an equality. Up to the time I left Albany, which was three o'clock, P. M., there were six dead, as follows: Mr. Doty Beech, a very excellent man, and noble citizen, was crushed by the falling of his own dwelling; also Mr. Efiner, two children of Mr. Riley, one a babe, killed in its mother's arms; the mother is also seriously injured.

Our citizens sent provisions down to Albany last night.

There is also an Irish girl missing; she is supposed to have been carried by the storm into the river. A Mr. Sweal also died about the time I left. The following are so severely injured that the physicians think they cannot recover: Mrs. Wm. Slocomb, Mr. Riley, and Miss Mary Stagg.

The following are badly injured, but expected to recover: Mr. Perkins, Mrs. Sweat, Mrs. Whitcomb, Miss Efiner, F. Miller and Mrs. Ostrander. There are very many others with bruises and cuts, which are too numerous to mention.

I saw a frame house which had been carried bodily a distance of over forty yards with a family in it, and they protest that it struck nothing in its flight but a hog, which it killed. The man in it said he thought they were going into the river, as that was the course the house took. The family came out unharmed, and the house bore as few marks of bad treatment as any house I saw, if not more so. The citizens from Fulton held a meeting, and proffered to the distressed the hospitalities of Fulton, and to supply such as had been thrown out of doors with houses, rent free, and to render them such other relief as they could. There is hardly a family in all the town but is left totally destitute. What the winds did not carry off, the fallen houses have demolished; so I do not believe that in the entire town there is $500 worth of household furniture. You will readily perceive that their condition is one that calls for immediate sympathy, as all that many of them owned in the world was their house and furniture.

I did not get over to Comanche, as the steam ferry boat belonging to Capt. Samuel Mitchell was blown ashore, and the top and upper rigging all torn off, and the only way to cross was in a skiff, which was crammed full all the while. But I learned from those who did go, that Comanche suffered worse than Albany, as all their town is blown down, and a large number of lives lost. I heard this evening that thirty-eight dead bodies had been found, although I think that may be over the number, as I saw a man just before I left Albany, who had just come from Comanche. He said they had taken out twenty-six then, but that there are others missing. I was told that there are houses with families totally missing, and the supposition is they were carried into the river, as the storm bore directly that way. A man in Comanche says his barn, together with his horses, was taken up and carried bodily into the river, and that one of his horses swam out of the barn, and the other horses he has not seen.

I was shown a heavy two-inch door in Albany, which the citizens said had come from Comanche, as they had nothing of the sort in Albany.

The shore of the river is literally strewn with the wreck of houses, which, to form any adequate idea of, you must see. I cannot give you but a faint sketch.

TUESDAY MORNING.—Have since heard from Comanche. The number of dead last night was thirty-eight. D.

—Chicago Times of yesterday.

No Chance for the Tariff Bill---Increased Pay for the Navy.

The Washington correspondent of the Philadelphia North American, under date of June 3d, writes as follows:

"A conference of leading democratic Senators took place yesterday, at which they exchanged opinions in regard to the adjournment, and decided, if practicable, to adopt the House resolution to close the session on the 18th inst., and not to touch the tariff at all. If this decision should be carried out all legislation but the mere appropriation bills must fail. That is really the intention of the Finance Committee, and has been for months past. Mr. Hunter has never disguised this purpose, nor his intention of giving the tariff a quietus by non-action and postponement. The plain truth is, the democratic majority in the Senate, as well as in the House, with a few individual exceptions, are opposed to any modification or change whatever. They accept and adopt the theory of the secretary of the Treasury, that the present bill will produce revenue enough, and beyond that point they consider the subject wholly unworthy of attention either in reference to the protection of our suffering industry, or to the extinction of the enormous debt created during the last three years.

The bill increasing the pay of the navy has become a law by the operation of the Constitution. The last of the ten days expired yesterday. The President was unwilling to sign the bill, and not prepared to veto it. Halting between these two extremes, he let the law take its course. Every other branch of the public service had been advanced in pay while that of the navy had remained stationary for twenty years, during all the costly changes of that period. There is but one fault in the bill, which is the increased compensation to midshipmen. Those young gentlemen were well provided for before, and the additional allowance will only serve to encourage habits which may be injurious in after life.

HIS EXCELLENCY ON A BENDER.—While Artists are devoting their valuable time to the execution of busts of distinguished personages, it is a matter of no small gratification to the community at large, that there is at least one distinguished individual who can commence, carry on, and finish his own "bust" with a degree of perfection seldom attained by the most scrupulous devotees of sculpture or painting. We allude to His Excellency, R. M. Stewart, Governor of the State of Missouri.

Robert was in town on Saturday last. No sooner had he arrived than he was waited upon by a large number of "bosom friends" —headed by Bill Rose, of strychnine whiskey notoriety. He commenced his artistic labors at an early hour on Saturday morning. By ten o'clock, A. M., his hat might have been seen hanging on his ear. By half past ten his capillary vegetation was dishevled and a portion of it covered his forehead.—By twelve o'clock his coat was whitewashed by a wall which staggered against it By one o'clock his Excellency was remarkably "ferocious," and was engaged in a spirited debate in a subterranean beer saloon with a Teutonic gentleman, whom he honored with certain dignified titles which we think best to omit, and by two o'clock Robert's nose had run itself against Teuton's fist, and without injuring the bunch of fives, materially disfigured itself. At three o'clock Bill Rose was busily engaged in tying the nasal organ of the Governor of Missouri in a handkerchief, to preserve it for future use. The "bust" was now complete, and any artist who can equal it will please notify us of his ability so to do.—St. Louis Democrat of Monday.

DEATH OF A MEMBER OF CONGRESS.—The Hon Silas M. Burroughs, of Medina, whose protracted illness has terminated fatally, was a man of decided ability, energetic habits and earnest opinions. Though of good standing in his profession, he devoted most of his time and thoughts to political questions. He was an influential Member of our Legislature, but mainly in consequence of his deafness, and impaired health, has been less active in Congress. In the discharge of public duties, he was distinguished alike for his independence and his integrity.—Albany Evening Journal, June 5th.

BOY DROWNED.—A boy about 12 years of age, named Daniel Hannifin, was drowned in this city, in the Wisconsin river, near the head of the canal, on Sunday evening last, by falling from a lumber raft. The body has not yet been recovered.—Portage City Record.

Departure of Steamers.

FOR CHICAGO.

The steamer Gazelle will leave Olmsted's dock every evening at 7 o'clock for the above and intermediate ports.

FOR TWO RIVERS.

The steamer Cleveland leaves Olmsted's dock, every evening at 5 o'clock, for Port Washington, Sheboygan, Manitowoc and Two Rivers.

FOR BUFFALO.

Screw steamers, with good accommodations, leave the different transportation docks every day, for Buffalo.

FOR OSWEGO AND ODGENSBURGH.

One of the Northern Transportation Co's screw steamers sails for the above ports every day, from the the Company's dock at the M. & Miss. R. R. depot, touching at nearly all intermediate ports.

FOR COLLINGWOOD.

The Collingwood Line of screw steamers leave semi-weekly from Dousman's dock, foot of East Water Street, connecting at Collingwood with the Northern Railway of Canada, for the East.

FOR GREEN BAY.

The screw steamer Wildcat, Valley makes weekly trips to the above port, starting from Olmsted's dock.

MOVEMENTS OF WHEAT AT MILWAUKEE AND CHICAGO—COMPARATIVE PRICES.—Below is a comparative statement of the deliveries of wheat at Milwaukee and Chicago last week, and since the beginning of the year, and also the exports for the same periods:

RECEIPTS.

	Last week.	Since Jan. 1.
At Milwaukee	57,154	1,511,165
Chicago	53,082	1,195,483
Milwaukee ahead thus far		305,685

EXPORTS.

From Milwaukee	167,074	1,058,923
Chicago	92,464	854,423
Milwaukee ahead thus far		204,500

Prices of the two leading grades of wheat at Milwaukee and Chicago for the past three days, according to the reports of the SENTINEL and Press and Tribune, have been as follows:

	At Milwaukee.		At Chicago.
	No. 1 spring.	No. 2.	No. 1 sp.	No. 2 do.
Saturday	$1,09@1,09½	$1,03	$1,06	$1,00@1,06
Monday	$1,10@1,10½	$1,05	$1,06	$1,00@1,06½
Tuesday	$1,09@1,10	$1,07	$1,06	$1,03@1,06

The standard of these grades is the same in both markets. It will be seen from this comparison that Milwaukee not only takes the lead of Chicago in receipts and shipments of wheat, but also in prices, the same qualities bringing 1s2 cents more per bushel in this market than in Chicago.

SINCE HUNN & CROSBY have removed to their new quarters, the Grocery business has received quite an impetus. This new store merits investigation. We hear strange rumors about its being very fine, indeed, altogether a notch superior to all the other four-and-twenty. We hear that it is several hundred feet deep, with thousands of shelves ranged upward, on either side, far beyond the reach of mortal vision—that to stand in the door way on Water street and look inward, the mind becomes bewildered, and the stomach confounded with the maze of eatable, drinkable and cookable compounds and concerns that fade away into a dim perspective among the mountains in the rear. We hear this, but don't believe it. If somebody should tell us that a boy has been drowned several days, and had only been resuscitated by the persevering efforts of certain persons who rolled him on a barrel for four weeks, we shouldn't believe it. Some people would. And we can't believe this about HUNN & CROSBY'S new store. The fact is, there is so much excitement at present, and the public mind is in such a feverish state about that new store, that it is hard, very hard, to arrive at any opinion at all. It may, however, safely be said that Messrs. HUNN & CROSBY, as grocers, are all that public opinion asserts, and their new store is stocked with the largest and choicest groceries, (including those extra English Sauces and delicacies, which are sometimes overlooked by other well meaning grocers) ever offered in this city.

ROLLING ON A BARREL.—The Wisconsin of yesterday, in reply to some statement in the News, says:

"As for rolling a person who is feared to be drowned, an hour and a half on a barrel, in doubting it the News proves its own ignorance of such matters. It is a common occurrence to keep to work at persons, under such circumstances, for hours. We have known of cases where they have been rolled three or four hours."

Possibly; but if they were not dead before the "rolling" commenced, that process would have killed them inevitably. It is a fatal mistake to suppose that "rolling on a barrel" will ever recall to life "a person who is feared to be drowned."

We knew by the smoke which so gracefully curled
Above his moustace, that a smoker was near,
And we said, if cigars may be smoked in the world,
The man that can do it is probably here.

Well, what did he say? Say? Why he puffed the fragrant odor in our face and replied:

You are right my dear fellow, on smoking I'm some,
In fact, I'm a regular horse,
But the credit of odor belongs not to me,
I buy all my regalias of Monse.

Well, then what did we say? Why we threw up our hat and replied in our usual felicitous manner:

Hereafter, adieu to the cabbage leaf stem,
Which blacks up the curtains and smothers,
Our better-half now shall rejoice in the change,
For we'll patronize, too, the MONSE BROTHERS.

MUTUAL LIFE INS. CO. OF WISCONSIN.—There was an election on Monday, by policy holders in the above Company, to fill the places of nine Trustees whose terms of office then expired. Quite a heavy vote was cast, and resulted in the re-election of JAMES BONNELL, M. STEVER, D. NEWHALL and CARL SCHURZ, of Milwaukee, and the election of H. S. BAIRD, of Green Bay, Dr. JAS. CADY, of Watertown, J. I. CASE, of Racine, SIMEON MILLS, of Madison, and AMASA COBB, of Mineral Point. The Trustees also met in the evening and re-elected the former officers. The balance-sheet shows a good year's work, and places success beyond contingency.

LECTURE BY JOHN MITCHELL.—The celebrated Irish patriot, editor and speaker, JOHN MITCHELL, will lecture this evening at Albany Hall on the Agony of Europe. Whatever may be his views of our institutions, it is certain that he is an eloquent, impassioned speaker, and will treat the subject in an able and interesting manner.

KILLED BY A FREIGHT CAR.—Yesterday morning a German named SCHREIBER, in the employ of Mr. HIGBY, at the La Crosse depot, was knocked down and run over by a freight car on the La Crosse road, and was instantly killed, the wheels passing over his neck. He leaves a wife and three children.

LECTURE.—Dr. DOUGLAS will deliver a lecture this evening, before Badger State Temple, No. 140, at their Hall, in Walker's Block. Dr. DOUGLAS is one of the most interesting speakers we have ever listened to STRAWBERRIES were offered yesterday at 15 cents a quart—and taken.

New Books.

AGAINST WIND AND TIDE.—By HOLME LEE. New York: W. A. TOWNSEND & Co. Milwaukee: STRICKLAND & Co.

An English story, and fit to accompany the BRONTE Works. The history of CYRUS and ROBERT HAWTHORNE, illegitimate children and very dissimilar in character, proves to be intensely interesting. CYRUS is the child of genius, with a delicate organization, sanguine, impulsive, aspiring, the pride and hope of his family and friends. ROBERT is a person rather of principle than sentiment—honest, unambitious, industrious. With the acquaintance of these nice samples of manhood, one becomes interested in the progress of the plot immediately. CYRUS embarks upon the sea of life, under the auspices of a wealthy father. ROBERT goes into a varnish factory. One cultivates his feelings and tastes; the other goes to the task of working out, from a daily routine of humble duties, the road to future prominence. CYRUS issues a book of poems, is lauded and caressed by the aristocracy; ROBERT patiently grovels along in the workshop of his uncle.

The progress of these two young men is most admirably depicted. Their course is true to what we all know of human nature. One makes a failure of life, not so much because life cannot afford the realization of his brilliant hopes, as because he is reckless of his own powers. The other achieves the moderate success he is struggling for. The sentimental part of the plot is handled in a superior manner—all the more so, that it is not according to the orthodox rule. There is a great deal more of nature than of art in the book—though the critic will find nothing to complain of in the plot, the mise en scene, or the characters. They are all moderate in tone, and move with the grand simple action of human events, unbroken by any improbable catastrophes, and unmarred by objectional episodes.

CYRUS HAWTHORN and little LOLA will linger in the memory of the reader a long time, and the moral, self applied as one reads, will not only be acknowledged but be stored away and thought of when most needed.

"Welsh Presbyterian Convention,"

For the Sentinel.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—In your issue of the 1st inst. I find the above heading a notice of the association held by the "Welsh Calvinistic Methodists" at Racine this week. This respectable body is not a "Welsh Presbyterian Convention of the Old School in the State of Wisconsin," as your correspondent states, nor does it claim the remotest relations in any sense whatever to the Old School Presbyterians, either in this country or in Wales. It was a glaring blunder to make such a misstatement. If the writer of said notice made that statement in order to lead any parties to believe it as it is, I ask him at what place the Welsh Calvinistic Methodists, in the State of Wisconsin, became Old School Presbyterians?

EVAN WILLIAMS.

Milwaukee, June 5.

WE CALL THE ATTENTION of our merchants and citizens generally, to the advertisement which appears in another column, of the St. Nicholas Hotel, Broadway, New York. This princely palace has accommodations for one thousand guests. A city within a city, having a cosmopolitan community, representatives from every civilized nation on the face of the globe. The gentleman who planned and carried into successful operation an enterprise like this mammoth establishment, deserve the most liberal patronage of the travelling public. We advise our friends visiting New York to call on Messrs. TREADWELL, WHITCOMB & Co., with whom we are sure they will feel at home.

A MILWAUKEE INSTITUTION.—The La Crosse Union and Democrat thus notices one of our manufacturing establishments:

MAMMOTH FURNITURE HOUSE.—We call the attention of our dealers in choice cabinet furniture to the card of A. D. Seaman, of Milwaukee. He has the largest establishment of the kind there is West of the New England States, employs about two hundred men, and turns out some of the handsomest work we ever saw. During the past year he has furnished dealers in Chicago alone with chamber setts and other work, to the amount of fifty thousand dollars, and his trade is rapidly increasing. If you ever wish to furnish a house nice, and do it cheap for cash, and to have your furniture in style, call on Seaman, the leading furniture man of the West.

MUNICIPAL COURT, June 6.—John Bond, drunk and disorderly; fined $1 and costs, or 8 days in jail.

John Small, disorderly; plead guilty, and sentenced to pay a penalty of $2 and costs, or to be committed ten days. Paid.

James Elliot, drunk; plead guilty, and sentenced to pay a penalty of $2 and costs, or five days in jail. Paid.

Henry Rauzton, assault and battery; case continued to June 18, 1860.

John Fisher, Wm. Miller and Jacob Rapp, assault and battery; case continued to June 11, 1860.

BASE BALL.—The match at Base Ball, which was to have been played, yesterday afternoon, by our Milwaukee Base Ball Club, was postponed, in consequence of the rain, until this, Thursday, afternoon; when, if the weather permits, the match will come off. An omnibus will leave the corner of Main and Wisconsin streets, at 3 o'clock, to convey parties to the ground. A full attendance of the members of the Club is desired.

RAIN AND SUNSHINE.—We had a slight thunder-storm yesterday morning, followed, for a few hours, by a north-easterly rainstorm. Towards mid-day the clouds broke and the afternoon brought with it a westerly breeze and golden sunshine.

FAMILY GROCERIES—CHOICE SEGARS.—Mr. J. W. LEDYARD, at 161 East Water St., has just received, direct from New York, a large and carefully selected stock of Family Groceries, and a few thousand choice Havana Segars. Housekeepers and lovers of the weed will do well to give him an early call.

TICKETS FOR THE BALTIMORE CONVENTION.—Tickets will be furnished (to those wishing to attend the Baltimore Convention on the 18th) by the Detroit & Milwaukee Railway at the low sum of $19,50. This is $3,50 less than by any other route. je7d2t

MR. RILEY NOT COMING.—Owing to sickness, Mr. RILEY is unable to be here as announced and open the Academy of Music—We shall, therefore, have to wait a little longer.

THE REVENUE CUTTER.—The U. S. Revenue Cutter, A. P. Brown, Capt. MITCHELL commanding, left this port yesterday morning, on a cruise up the Lake. She is in tip-top order.

"EYE OF THEE," a very popular song, arranged for the piano forte, may be had at HEMPSTED'S, together with all the latest musical productions.

THE LADY ELGIN leaves Milwaukee today, (Thursday,) at 9 A. M., for Lake Superior. J. H. ROBERTS & Co., Passenger Agents, 21 East Water Street.

FINE STRAWBERRIES.—M. C. COOK & Co., on Wisconsin St., have an abundant supply of ripe strawberries which they are retailing at 20 cents a quart.

NEW PUBLICATIONS.—The "Throne of David," by J. H. INGRAHAM, author of the "Prince of the House of David." "Mill on the Floss." "El-Turiedis." "Semi Detached House." Atlantic for June. Harper for June. Knickerbocker for June.—Godey's for June. Leslie's Magazine for June. New publications always on hand at

A Difference of Opinion.

The SENTINEL, without quoting the remark which Mr. BRODERICK made concerning Judge TERRY, expresses the opinion that "there was no sufficient provocation in open and... to justify a challenge." We think otherwise. We believe that Mr. BRODERICK himself, [illegible] acknowledged that there by accepting the challenge. In all the country where dueling is war. In a [illegible] of this country, no [illegible] wholly discountenanced, as well as in the North, no worthy gentleman is considered by reason of a challenge justly the [illegible] of the News of yesterday.

Mr. BRODERICK left his dying testimony to the effect, that Judge TERRY forced this quarrel upon him, with the deliberate purpose of taking his life, if he could, for "opposing a corrupt Administration and the extension of slavery." He never made any such acknowledgment as the News speaks of. But even admitting that there was a quasi provocation for the duel, the circumstances of the fight made the killing of BRODERICK nothing more nor less than a cowardly assassination. And yet Mr. DOUGLAS could find it in his heart to vote for the accessory to the murder of one of his oldest and truest friends. Had their positions been reversed, DOUGLAS in his grave and BRODERICK in the Senate, nothing could ever have induced that gallant and honorable man to have cast such a vote as DOUGLAS gave.

The Question Stated.

Senator HAMMOND, of South Carolina, in a letter just published, taking ground against Mr. DOUGLAS and his views, says:

"They are told and believe that we are weak, and in the face of the fact that we have been strong enough to control the Government ever since it was established and to make the country what it is, they have been taught that the South dare not face the North on any decisive issue, on the issue of dissolution. And that such is what, it seems to me, they are now pressing firmly on us, in Congress, and everywhere. We must meet it and meet it now."

Senator HAMMOND states the case frankly. It is simply this. Shall the South, which has "controlled this Government ever since it has been established," be dispossessed now of the power which it has wielded so long? The Republicans say yes, because the South has administered the Government in a sectional spirit and for their own exclusive benefit. And because the Republicans claim that the majority, instead of the minority, shall rule, the South sets up the cry of "disunion!"

A Sugar Plum for the South.

The Hon. JAMES JACKSON, M. C. of Georgia, states, in a published letter to Col. O. C. GIBSON, that the delegates of New York to the Baltimore Convention have promised—if the seceders will return and take their seats in that body—to recognize the rights of the South in the Territories; that is to say they will agree in "a clear and unequivocal denial of the lawful power of the Territorial Legislature to exclude Slavery from the common Territories of the Union, directly or indirectly, by unfriendly legislation, or otherwise; and in a declaration of the duty of the Federal Government to protect our Slave property, just as they are bound to protect other property in the Territories, as everywhere else where they have jurisdiction."

It seems hardly possible that Mr. JACKSON should make such a statement, except upon good authority, and equally improbable that the New York Delegation should have ventured to make any such pledge. No candidate nominated at Baltimore upon a Slave-code platform has any chance of success, while, if such a platform is not conceded, the South threatens to bolt in mass. It is difficult to guess what will be the result of this Democratic imbroglio.

THE GERMANS AND THE CHICAGO CONVENTION.—The Turnzeitung, the organ of the Turners in the United States, contains a letter addressed by Dr. WISZ, a prominent and leading German of Baltimore, to CARL SCHURZ, of this State. Dr. W. was elected one of the delegates from Maryland to the Chicago Convention, but declined attending, because he would not obey the instructions of the Convention that elected him, and vote for EDWARD BATES in the National Convention. He writes to Mr. SCHURZ, explaining the reason of his non-attendance, and at the same time, expressing his hearty approbation of the action of the Chicago Convention, both in framing a platform and selecting candidates.

The Madison Journal thus translates the closing paragraph of his letter:

"Thus, I am fully satisfied with that great historical work which the Chicago Convention, in so few days, completed. That was a genuine May-field (Maifeld.) The breath of Spring, which swells the buds and dissolves the ice, blows it from the West hither. All great ideas, for the realization of which we have fought and struggled in Germany, and on account of which we have eaten the bitter bread of banishment," are quickened and born anew, in the spiritually coagulated element of American life; and German intelligence has not a little contributed thereto. So one can already forget the old sorrows. Your platform is a mast-work; it is a second declaration of independence in the spirit of an advanced century; and the standard-bearers are ample pledges for its principles."

THE CAMPAIGN IN NEW HAMPSHIRE.—A correspondent at Concord gives an excellent account of the zeal and enthusiasm of the Republicans of New Hampshire. He says: "From every section of the State the enthusiasm for LINCOLN and HAMLIN is rapidly increasing. LINCOLN and HAMLIN clubs are being organized from Coos to Rockingham, and all are working boldly to see how much over five thousand majority the Granite State will give for free dom's champions next November. It will be remembered that New Hampshire was the first State in the Chicago Convention which cast her vote for the 'flat-boatman' of the Mississippi. She means now to stand by him, and work with unabated zeal until he is elected President of the United States. The number of persons who have enrolled their names upon the constitution of the 'Wide Awake' in our city is very large. Each ward has its company, and they meet regularly. On Friday evening there is to be a large Republican meeting in Phœnix Hall, and spirited addresses may be expected from several distinguished gentlemen."

DON'T LIKE HIM.—The N. Y. Anti-Slavery Standard does not like LINCOLN as a candidate for the Presidency. After reviewing certain points in his history, it proceeds:

"And now we ask abolitionists, before they expose themselves to the heats of the Presidential canvass, to consider, as only and conscientiously whether they can in conscience enter a Presidential election, vote for a man who is opposed to allowing the negro the rights of citizenship, in favor of Congressional legislation for the capture of fugitive slaves, in favor of admitting new slave States to the Union, and opposed to the unqualified abolition of slavery in the District of Columbia, and of the slave trade between the States? Every ballot cast for him will be a ballot in favor of the fugitive slave law as it stands, and for its enforcement by the whole power of the National Government. Every such ballot will be a dagger aimed at the heart of the slave."

The above appears in the News of yesterday. The day before the, News insisted that Mr. LINCOLN was so acceptable to the "Abolitionists of the GARRISON school," that they were all, black and white, going in for him. Which of these conflicting stories does the News intend to stick to?

Constitution of the "Wide-Awake Club of the City of Madison."

First. The Club shall be known by the name and style of the "Wide-Awake Club of the city of Madison."

Second. The object of this Club is to attend in a body all Republican meetings to be held in this city; act as an escort for all distinguished public speakers who may visit us to address our Citizens, and to labor earnestly, in every honorable way, to elect the Republican ticket, and for the diffusion of Republican principles throughout our common country.

Third. Any person, native or foreign-born, who is in favor of, and will use his influence to secure the election of LINCOLN and HAMLIN, and will provide himself with the uniform of this Club, may become a member thereof.

Fourth. The officers of the Club shall be a Captain, 1st, 2d, 3d and 4th Lieutenants.—The Captain shall preside at all meetings, and shall have the command of the Club at all times. In his absence the Lieutenants shall command in the order of their rank.

Fifth. Every member of this Club shall attend the meetings regular, and special, and when on duty or attendance at meetings, shall obey the officer in command.

Sixth. This Constitution may be altered or amended by a vote of two-thirds of the members present at any regular meeting.

Seventh. The officers of this Club shall be elected for one year from the first Monday of June, 1860, and the annual election of officers thereafter shall be held on the first Monday of June of each year.

Eighth. Every person shall, before he is recognized as a member of the Club, sign these articles.

The Madison "Wide-Awakes," are well organized, provided with a neat uniform and officered as follows: Captain, Benj. Hopkins; 1st Lieutenant, D. C. Poole; 2d, Geo. E. Bryant; 3d, H. Cordier; 4th, Thomas S. Allen.

They turned out last Saturday evening with their torches and made a very fine display.

Speaking of "Wide-Awakes," is it not high time that our Republican Young Men started such an organization in this city?

Louisville Black Republicans.

It may seem somewhat strange that we have such persons as Black Republicans in our midst, but it is even so, as illustrated by a public meeting last night at the City Court room. Mr. Bland Ballard presided.

Mr. L. E. Dembitz, from the Committee on Organization, reported in favor of organizing a Republican Club, which has for its object the support of LINCOLN and HAMLIN. It is yet undecided whether this new party will nominate candidates for county officers.

Mr. Needham recounted his experience as a delegate to the Chicago Convention, and others made speeches, the meeting partaking of a ratification meeting. The sentiments uttered and the programme of principles suit the Black Republicans of the North, but they are out of place in this latitude.—Louisville Courier, May 1.

The dolorous tone of the above paragraph is somewhat amusing. Thanks, to CASSIUS M. CLAY and a few kindred spirits, Republicanism is fairly engrafted upon good Kentucky stock, and will soon bear fruit abundantly.

Garibaldi in Sicily.

The issue of GARIBALDI's expedition to Sicily still remains in doubt. The news by the Vanderbilt was favorable to his success. That by the Nova Scotian wears a gloomy look. The reports from Naples say that the insurrection was making no progress; but the source from which this intelligence comes impairs its credibility. On the other hand, the Vienna correspondent of the London Times says that the prevalent opinion there is, that Sicily is lost to the Bourbons. A few days more will tell the story.

THE JAPANESE AT WASHINGTON.—On Saturday a large number of presents which had accumulated in the hands of the naval committee, intended for the Chinese Embassy, were presented by Captain DUPONT.

On Saturday Ex-Governor SEWARD called to see the Ambassadors at WILLARD's, and was presented to them by Captain DUPONT, through Mr. PORTMAN, the interpreter. The Ambassadors addressed to the ex-Governor, through the interpreter, in the following neat little speech:

"Governor, we are much gratified to have the honor of making your acquaintance, and are obliged to you for taking the trouble to come to see us. We had heard of you before we came to this country. We hope to meet you again in New York."

To this Mr. SEWARD replied that he hoped to have that pleasure before their return to their country; that whatever he could contribute to make their visit pleasant whilst North, he would most cheerfully do for them; that he hoped the news about the Niagara would not in the least interfere with their visit to this country.

The Princes and some half dozen others have visited the Smithsonian Institution. Professor HENRY gave an interesting experiment on atmospheric air pressure and the galvanic battery, electric light, &c., the different experiments lasting over two hours. After a social chat and smoke all round, they were then shown the collection of animals, birds, fishes, reptiles and other curiosities of the establishment. After expressing themselves much pleased for what they had seen, and the friendly manner with which they had been treated, they returned to their rooms.

HOW THE CAMPAIGN OPENS IN PENNSYLVANIA.—The indications that Pennsylvania will give a heavy majority for LINCOLN and HAMLIN, are unmistakable.

The Harrisburg Telegraph says:

"From every section of the State we have the cheering intelligense that the Opposition masses are rallying with unexampled unanimity and enthusiasm for Lincoln, Hamlin and Curtin. We are sanguine enough to believe that the majority for the Republican ticket will reach at least 40,000."

The Mauch Chunk Gazette, published in the heart of the "tenth legion," says:

"We believe that we cannot be beaten at most, over 2,000 in the counties composing the 'Old Tenth Legion,' where Buchanan in 1856 had between six and seven thousand over both Fremont and Fillmore. And we would not be at all surprised if even "Honest Old Abe" would actually carry this Malakoff of Democracy.

THE CONFIDENCE MAN ABROAD.—The Albany Argus and Atlas says: "The Democrats will carry New Jersey, Connecticut, Rhode Island, California, Oregon, Indiana and Illinois, with a chance for Minnesota, Iowa and Wisconsin."

Now if the certainty that the Democrats will carry New Jersey, Connecticut, Rhode Island, &c., &c., is no greater than their "chance" of carrying Minnesota, Iowa and Wisconsin, they may as well "come down" at once.

MUTTON AS AN ARTICLE OF FOOD.—The American Agriculturist says: "We mean to repeat a thousand times, or at least till what we say shall have some effect upon our countrymen, that a pound of lean, juicy mutton can be produced for half the cost of the same quantity of pork; that it is infinitely healthier food, especially in the summer season, and those who eat it become more muscular and can do more work with greater ease to themselves, than those who eat fat pork. We have nothing more delicious than smoked mutton hams, of the South-down breed of sheep. Venison itself is not superior."

THE WASHINGTON STATES says:—"We learn from that excellent Democratic paper, the Illinois Register, that Thurlow Weed, the confidential friend of Mr. Seward, is now on a visit to Mr. Abraham Lincoln, at Springfield, Illinois, making arrangements for a fair division of the spoils, in the event Lincoln shall be elected President by the aid of Seward's friends."

"That excellent Democratic paper" is mistaken. Mr. Weed is in this city and has been for some days.—N. Y. Post.

AS A TOKEN of esteem to the Japanese, President Buchanan's head has been struck off at the U. S. Mint, and presented to those distinguished visitors. The gift will be prized by them as the offering of a gratified nation, more than for its intrinsic value.—Albany Statesman.

As a token of esteem to the American people, it will be again struck off March 4, 1861.—Oswego Times.

Capture of Another Slaver.

Correspondence of the Courier & Enquirer.

KEY WEST, May 26, 1860.

The U. S. steamer Crusader, Lieut. Moffit, arrived here on the night of the 25th inst., with a slaver, a bark, supposed to be a French vessel, commanded by a French captain, with a French and Spanish crew. She has on board 422 Africans, and is supposed to be from Whyda, (coast of Guinea,) 45 days out. She had 429 when she left the coast, having lost but 7 since she left. They are all fine looking and seem to have been well cared for. The Crusader took her off Nuevitas, (Cuba,) on the 23d, at 1 P. M. The Crusader, when she discovered the bark, hoisted the American flag, the slaver having the French flag hoisted. When the Crusader's boat approached her, the slaver threw her flag overboard, also her papers. The officers have not been able to find out her name, or nationality.

MORE BURNING IN EFFIGY.—The Independent South, published in Burke Co. Ga., has the following:

"On Friday last the citizens of Waynesboro' and vicinity met without distinction of party, and in cool deliberation, without a dissenting voice, they proceeded to hang in effigy the ten Georgia delegates who would not withdraw from the Charleston National Convention. They were hung in the public streets with the insoription labeled on them, "Georgia Traitors," and while swung up they were stoned and brickbatted by the little darkies; their remains were then taken out to the parade ground and hung up to the liberty pole and burnt to ashes—the cannon was fired one time with the mouth turned to the ground, as a token of submission on the part of the delegates."

SHOCKING ACCIDENT.—Last evening as the Chippewa Valley was landing at Durand, six miles above this city, a stranger on the boat got his leg in a coil of rope, and the limb was cut off between the knee and ankle, as though it had been a roll of putty. The crew raised $100 for the unfortunate, and he was left at Durand in the care of Dr. Nicholl, of this city, and Drs. French and Gallaway, of Eau Claire. The captain of the boat gave him twenty dollars, and became responsible for his expenses while sick. While we regret to learn of such a calamity, it does us good to record the generosity of the noble-hearted Captain Moore and his crew.—La Crosse Union of Tuesday.

The firm of OGDEN & WALL is dissolved. I will at present occupy the same office for real estate purposes, and attend to all business, such as obtaining loans, selling mortgages, and renting houses. Insurances can be obtained in first class Eastern Companies at current rates. In the course of two weeks I intend to make my annual report of the improvements which are now going on in the various wards of our city. The impression with some is that no improvements are going on, which is a mistake. Milwaukee city is yet alive and going ahead, and encouragements to do so. Never was there such an opportunity for capitalists to invest money, as now offers. One third cash required, all who have made contracts for buildings will please inform me, so that I can report the same.

THE MENDICANT GIRL.

She came in the morning, when came the light;
A fair young girl—both winsome and bright;
But a tear-drop glistened in her eye within—
She was tattered and torn, and hungry and thin,
And those eyes had seen only sorrow and sin.
The rain fell over the dusty street,
Yet it staid not the course of her wandering feet;
A beggar child she had been from her bed died,
Though she knew it not, as she mournfully cried,
"My mother, O, where is my mother?"

Noon came, and the beggar girl's weary sigh
Was heard harsh on the ear of the passer by,
As he pushed the little one rudely aside,
And hurried away in the busy tide.
She wept and she wept, and longed to close
Her lids in a silent and sweet repose;
But she had no home—and her longing eye
Wept sadly and sore; she could only cry,
"My mother! O, where is my mother?"

It was sad to see, as she ran along,
And gazed in each face of the merry throng,
How her eyes would sparkle and wildly glare
As she fancied her mother's visit was there.
But alas! how the young heart sorrowed and bled,
Till it longed for the deep, sweet sleep of the dead,
As it found not her who had given birth—
Nor a single friend in the whole broad earth;
Till she sunk at last, on the cold, cold stone,
And her voice grew faint, and could only moan,
"My mother, O, where is my mother?"

Night came! An angel passing by
Gave heed to the dying orphan's cry;
He comes to her side as the last low breath
Is stolen away by the tyrant, Death.
"Come home with me, child!" I will be thy brother,
And take thee where thou will find thy mother!"
He murmurs her name—and the lips unclose,
Like the withered lips of a dying rose
At the rain drop's touch—and she followed him
To the realm of the bright-eyed seraphim.

'Twas a beautiful land that their feet then trod—
'Twas the Christian's home, and the home of God!
"Look up, poor child!" said the spirit fair—
"Look up, and tell me what seest thou there?"
The child gazed up; her waiting soul
Grew full with the joy that storms control;
Her sorrows were lost, in the sweet eclipse,
And a new song stole from the beggar girl's lips,
"My mother! 'tis thee, my mother!"

THE DWARF OF THE OLD OAK CHEST.

COMPLETE IN THREE CHAPTERS.

Thus passed the summer and autumn; the trees were beginning to shed their leaves, the wintry winds to blow, and Mary would often sit and listen to their melancholy wailings till she fancied they were singing the dirge of her departed lover.

One day when alone, and absorbed in such meditations, she was aroused by the entrance of Mr. Lonsdale, whose countenance was graver than usual as he took her hand, and said in a low, hesitating voice:

"Miss Archer, I can scarcely hope to be a welcome visitor this morning, for I am the bearer of bad news."

She gazed at him in terror.

"Oh, sir, what is the matter? What have you heard?"

"Nothing more than I anticipated. I have heard tidings of Mr. Newton."

"Is he dead?" shrieked the affrighted girl, clasping her hands with intense agitation.

"No, no, far better than that as concerns himself. He is married."

"I do not believe it!" she exclaimed wildly. "Who told you this, Mr. Lonsdale?—You cannot think it is true?"

"I can have no doubt of it my dear young lady. Here is my authority."

And he drew from his pocket a newspaper and pointed out the following paragraph:

"On the 16th of September was married, at Aix la-Chapelle, the Reverend Everard Newton, late of Oxford, to Maria Grisslar, the rich widow of Cologne. The bridegroom is six-and-twenty, the bride verging on seventy; but, as charity covereth a multitude of sins, so we presume gold covereth a multitude of wrinkles. The happy pair are making a tour of the chief Continental cities, but it is understood that their permanent residence will be at Cologne."

This was a stunning blow for poor Mary. The paper fell from her trembling hands, the blood forsook her cheek and quivering lips, the light faded from her eyes, a faintness came over her, and she would have fallen to the ground, but Mr. Lonsdale caught her in his arms and seated her gently on the sofa.

"Dear Mary," he said, in the softest accents, "this young man is unworthy of such emotions. What you have to do is to resent and not to grieve." And then he added, as if speaking to himself, "How degraded must be the mind of that man who could throw from him so priceless a pearl as this!"

Mary had struggled hard to keep herself from fainting, and she had succeeded. Her bursting heart found relief in a flood of tears; but the world was a desert now, it had no joys for her, for the light of hope was extinguished, and all before her was dark and dreary.

The old man touched her hand tenderly, but respectfully with his lips, and she did not recoil, for sympathy in sorrow is very sweet, let it come from whom it may; and he saw with secret exultation that a step was gained toward the object he had in view.

The winter was now approaching with rapid strides. The first snow had fallen, and the frost glittered in the beams of the rising sun. Mr. Lonsdale came every day to the cottage, and people began to talk of Mary as his future bride. One day her mother said to her—

"I am afraid, dear Mary, this winter will try me very severely. If I could but feel that you were provided for, my mind would be at rest."

"Oh, mother, mother, I cannot bear to hear you talk so! Think how much better you are than you were some months ago. And why should you trouble about me? I am able to provide for myself if need be; but now that you are so well, what is there to fear?"

"There is this to fear, Mary. I have been kept alive by the kindness of Mr. Lonsdale; but all that he has done is for your sake, and in the hope of making you his wife. If that cannot be—and I would not have you sacrifice your happiness on my account—we must not expect that his friendship will be continued. I only wonder it has lasted so long."

Mary hoped otherwise. She thought it would be continued, but she soon found that was a vain delusion. Mr. Lonsdale declared that if Mary persisted in refusing him, he would return to Italy without delay; but that if she consented to be his wife, he would remain in England, and his house should be her mother's home.

"For her sake, dear Mary," he urged, "think well of this. You say you never can love again. Well, be it so. I shall be content with your esteem, and perhaps that is all I have any right to expect from one so young and lovely. Your mother shall live with us, Mary, and I will be the friend and protector of you both?"

Mary listened in silent sadness; she began to think it was wrong and selfish to consult her own feelings alone. Besides, what had she now to care for in this world but her beloved mother, who, should their only friend forsake them, would droop and die.

And so the beautiful girl of eighteen consented to marry the little, deformed, gray-headed old gentleman of sixty-five, and everybody said what a fortunate girl Mary Archer was, and what an excellent match she had made. Bridal presents were lavished upon her, but they afforded her no pleasure. She felt more like a victim destined for sacrifice, than a maiden awaiting her nuptial hour; nor could any persuasions induce her to become a bride until the anniversary of the day of Everard's departure was past.

"Mother," said she, "let me give that one day to mournful remembrance, and it shall be the last."

CHAPTER III.

Everard had languished for many weeks in his mysterious prison without a prospect of release, but how long he had been there he knew not, for he had taken no account of time, nor could he draw from Wolfe, his keeper, a single word to enlighten him as to what month it was or even the day of the week.

He perceived by the change of temperature that the winter had passed away, and by the increasing warmth of the sun's rays as they penetrated through the skylight for a brief space each day, that the summer was advancing. Beyond this he had nothing to guide him, and but for the hope of being soon liberated he would have sunk into a state of utter despondency.

One thought tormented him incessantly.—His Mary—what would she think of his long absence? Would she believe he had deserted her; and if she doubted him would she still remain true?

The vigilance of the two masked gaolers was unabated, and if he asked any questions as to the termination of his captivity, the only answer he could get was:

"You are just one day nearer to it than you were yesterday."

Wolfe, who was a tall, powerful fellow, was rather loose in speech, and after a while Everard began to look upon his visits as a relief from the monotony of silence and solitude.—Nor was the man unmindful of his comforts. He brought his meals regularly, and supplied him with a sufficient change of apparel, as also with the means of making his toilet which he did not neglect, thinking that if he should be suddenly set at liberty, it would be as well not to re-enter the world looking like a wild man of the woods.

But no such chance presented itself, and the summer was wearing away, for the days began to look gloomy, and the nights grow long and cold. Again the fire blazed on the hearth, the sun ceased to send his light into that dreary chamber, and Everard felt that the winter was near.

His fortitude was fast deserting him—he began to give himself up to despair. The only source of enjoyment left open to him was the old chest with its store of time-worn volumes, far more precious in his eyes than gold and jewels would have been. The chest itself, too had became an object of interest, for it was carved with grotesque figures, which he sometimes fancifully embued with life, and held with them imaginary conversations.

One night, far on in the winter, and, as it seemed to him, about midnight, he retired to his pallet bed, leaving the fire still brightly blazing on the hearth, his eyes rested, as they often did, on the old oak chest in the opposite corner, on which the red glare of the embers threw a brilliant light, so that the figures on the front were seen with remarkable distinctness. Among these was one to which he had taken a particular fancy. It was a dwarf monster, with a misshapen body, a huge head, and ugly, uncouth features, but pleasant looking withal, exhibiting more of mirth than mischief in its strange, unearthly countenance.

He had so often gazed on this fantastic object, that it had assumed the character of a familiar acquaintance, almost a friend, and he had frequently amused himself by fancying that it smiled benignly at him, and seemed disposed to be upon quite intimate terms. On the night in question, the impression was stronger than usual, and he kept his eyes fixed on the image as if fascinated by some irresistible spell, and as the light of the fire glowed on the dwarf's face, he could almost have declared that the lips moved and the eyes rolled in the head.

He looked more intently, and presently the arms stirred, then the feet—then the whole figure becoming animated, stepped forth into the room, where it appeared three times the size of the carved image, which was only a foot in height.

"Who and what are you?" demanded Everard, who felt neither surprise nor fear at this extraordinary phenomenon.

"I am the guardian of this chest," replied the dwarf. "For three hundred years I have kept watch over it, and have rescued from imprisonment and death many a wretched victim of depression by disclosing its secrets. Do you think, oh, foolish young man, that it contains nothing better than the worm-eaten books you have been poring over for the last twelve months?"

"I have often looked into it," said Everard. "I have taken out all the books many times, but can find nothing else."

"Seek farther," answered the dwarf, "the search will well reward your pains."

"Then," returned Everard, "since you seem so well disposed towards me, can you not tell me what this treasure is, and how I am to find it?"

"No, no. He who would benefit by the discovery, must have wit enough to make it for himself."

And so saying, the strange apparition dwindled down to its original dimensions, and went back to its place, where it resumed the immobility of a wooden figure.

CAPTAIN U. S. ARMY.

Published by Authority of the War Department.

12mo. muslin, $1.00.

NO MAN INTENDING TO VISIT Pike's Peak will be without this book, if he knows how important it is to him, as it contains, among other things, itineraries of the best roads that have been traced, on the Missouri River, with the measured distances between each camping place, and minute descriptions of the water, wood, water and grass. Capt. Marcy, who is perfectly familiar with the country about Pike's Peak, has given an accurate description of it, with a map, which will be found in the book.

Should the emigrant, after his arrival at Pike's Peak, desire to go to New York, Kansas, Oregon, or to the newly discovered Washoe Mines in Carson Valley, he will find among the numerous itineraries the most correct and minute descriptions of the best roads to each place.

With this book in his hand the traveler will be able on this side of Carson Valley to tell precisely how far he has to go before he reaches the next camping place, which will enable him to regulate his drives to the best advantage for his animals.

MILWAUKEE DAILY SENTINEL. THURSDAY MORNING, JUNE 7, 1860.

TELEGRAPH!

REPORTED BY THE N. Y. ASSOCIATED PRESS FOR THE DAILY SENTINEL.

Washington Matters.

WASHINGTON, June 6—3 P. M.

There seems to be little, if any, doubt that the House bill for the admission of Kansas into the Union, whether with or without amendments, is uncertain. Senator Bright has declared that he would vote for the measure without qualification.

The two Houses, disagreeing on the question of restoring the mail service, a committee of conference has been appointed, consisting of Senators Pearce, Yulee, and Cameron, and Representatives Colfax, Washburn and Crawford.

The President has signed the bill which increases the pay of Navy Officers about 25 per cent.

The P. M. General has answered the call of the House for Mr. Fowler's defalcation. He makes some extraordinary revelations. It appears that his accounts have never been legally settled during the whole term of the present Administration, but were adjusted by a fictitious system in apparent violation of the letter and spirit of the law. The accounts are closed quarterly, but three months elapse usually before the quarter is closed up. Weekly returns are made to the finance bureaus of the departments, showing the several deposits against which drafts may be made.

The Select Pacific R. R. Committee held a meeting at the Capitol this evening. Six out of nine members present. Mr. Hamilton, Mr. Davis of Ind., Mr. Rice, of Mass., Fairbanks, of Ind., and Bonir, of Penn., were absent. After some discussion relative to amendments, a motion to amend the bill originally agreed upon by the Committee for a central route by inserting the southern Texas, El Paso and Diego route, was carried by a vote of 6 to 5.

The question then recurred upon the bill, as the House as amended. Upon that a question arose as to whether the friends of an extreme northern route would be allowed to move an amendment in the House. To this question Mr. Curtis responded, that he should allow any amendment, which, of course, settled the question.

The vote was then taken and defeated by a vote of 5 ayes to 6 nays.

The Japanese at the White House.

WASHINGTON, June 5.

The Japanese Princes, accompanied by their principal officers and the General Commission, proceeded to the Executive mansion to-day, to take leave of the President. The latter received them in the Blue Room, in company with Gen Cass and several other gentlemen.

The interview was cordial and of comparatively long continuance.

The President, among other things, informed them that he had selected for the Commission, several of the most gallant officers of our Navy, who, in peace, were most kind, but in war we depend upon them for our defence. He trusted, however, that they never would be required to operate against Japan.

The distinguished visitors, through their interpreter expressed their high appreciation of the President's address, as on a former occasion, and alluded to the handsome reception with which they have been met, and of the many kind attentions bestowed on them.

The President presented to each of the Princes a large gold medal, bearing his likeness and a suitable inscription, struck at the Philadelphia mint, and also a number of beautifully illustrated and splendidly bound American books. The latter were received with evident delight.

At parting, the hand-shaking was mutually cordial, and the interview throughout was of a gratifying and pleasant character.

Confession of Hicks.

NEW YORK, June 6—3 P. M.

Hicks, the oyster sloop pirate made a full confession to Hendricks killing Captain Burr and the two Watts boys, giving details of the circumstances attending the murders.

Hicks also confesses that he was one of the murderers of the Salazin. He is dictating a story of his life and adventures, which is to be published.

LATEST NEWS!

BY LAST NIGHT'S REPORT

Later from Pike's Peak.

ST. JOSEPH, June 6—9 P. M.

The Pike's Peak Express arrived here this morning, and furnishes the following summary of news:

DENVER CITY, May 28.—The Chief of the Arrapahoes met the whites in Council on the 26th. He expressed friendly feelings toward the settlers, and to remain on amicable terms with them. He says the Camanches, Kiowas, Apaches and Cheyennes threaten war upon the settlers, and warns all to be on their guard.

Little credit is given to these stories, and no alarm is felt. All are more careful to be well armed, however, in case of emergency.

For the last twenty-four hours it has been cold and rainy, with a violent wind. The mountains are again covered with snow.

The news from the mines is unimportant. Business is dull.

From present arrivals, we learn that some of the emigrants are turning back on the plains, without coming in sight of the mountains.

Congressional Proceedings.

WASHINGTON, June 6—9 P. M.

SENATE.—The Houmans land claim was discussed. The second section compelling suit to be brought within two years, was stricken out.

An amendment, offered by Mr. Toombs, that Congress refuse to confirm the grants under the Houmans claim, was adopted. The bill passed.

The deficiency appropriation bill was taken up and disposed of.

HOUSE.—The House went into Committee for general debate.

Mr. Morrill began a speech against modern Democracy.

Mr Craig, of North Carolina, called a point of order.

Cries from the Republican side, "too late."

Mr. Craig said he knew his rights, and would not be put down in that style.

The Chair voted several motions to adjourn—rejected.

At 8 o'clock a call of the House was made.

Matters at Boston.

BOSTON, June 6—9 P. M.

The schooner Spring Hill, 100 tons burthen, of this port, has been purchased for the Artic expedition of Dr. Hayes, and will be fitted out forthwith. The necessary funds have been subscribed in Philada., N. York, and Boston.

The Coroners Jury, at South Weymouth, have rendered a verdict that Mary Terrill was poisoned by corrosive sublimate, administered by some person unknown.

Amos A Lawrence has been chosen President of the Union Steamship Co. This Company are establishing a new line between N. Y. and Boston.

Sporting Intelligence.

NEW YORK, June 6—9 P. M.

The cricket match between St. George's of N Y and a Philadelphia club was won by the former, with 6 wickets to spare.

The trot between Flora Temple and Geo. M. Patchen was won by the former. Time 2:21, 2:24, 2:21 1-2.

SACKVILLE, N. B, June 6—9 P. M.

The St. Johns, N. F, line is not working and we have had no intelligence from there since Saturday last. The steamer Prince Albert is now fully due there with Galway dates of the 26th.

THE IRISH EXODUS.—The following is a passage from a remarkable statement in the Cork Examiner of May 18, bearing upon the continued flight of the population from that part alone, to the nearly adopted land of the Irish Celtic race:

"Each week sees the departure on an average of 600 persons, the great majority of whom are young men and women between 20 and 30 years of age To imagine the effect of this drain upon the community, we might instance that if these 600 were drawn from a town like that of Bandy, there would hardly be a young man or woman left in it The actual numbers are greater than the population of many large villages, and a fortnight's draught at that rate would utterly depopulate so considerable a town as Millstreet. Better inferring that almost every one of these persons is of condition to be of actual value to the community—the men as farm laborers, or mechanics; the women either in agricultural labor, as servants, or, still more important, as the healthy mothers of strong children. It is easy to conceive how terrible is the loss to the country. Nothing can impress this fact upon the mind so strongly as actually witnessing the crowd preparing for their departure. Among the entire there is not an indication of squalor or misery; not a single rag on the back of its owner indicates that he or she is flying from poverty, not a weak limb or a pale cheek—scarcely a wrinkled face indicates that the country is getting rid of a burden Sturdy, athletic young men, hearty and strong girls—often of extraordinary beauty—form the great bulk of this departing crowd On Thursday we witnessed no less than four hundred such preparing to take their departure in the Edinburgh, Captain Kennedy, one of the vessels of the Liverpool, New York, and Philadelphia line. A rumor had spread shortly before the arrival of the ship that a certain number would be excluded for want of accommodation, and the despair evinced by those who thought themselves shut out was as great as if they were told they had lost every hope. When the tenders came to bear away the passengers, there was a frantic rush even on the part of those whose places were secured, as if they fancied that some unlucky interposition would shut them out. The news that all could be taken was received as if some precious gifts had been showered among them."

SLAVES AND THE SLAVE TRADE.—Still another American slaver has been captured off our coasts by an American man of-war, and her unhappy human freight discharged at the Government station at Key West.—More than seventeen hundred native Africans are now assembled at this point, awaiting the action of the authorities at Washington in their behalf. Disease is busy, we are assured, among these wretched beings; and the rapid increase of their numbers testifies not more eloquently to the activity with which the infernal traffic is carried on under the protecting flag of our Republic, than does the suffering and unhealthy condition of the victims to the unchanged brutality with which this atrocious commerce is still accompanied. It is to be hoped that for the honor of the nation, if for no higher and more Christian motive, there will be no time lost at Washington, first, in providing for the restoration of these captives to their own country; and then in acting with emphasis upon the President's recommendations and Mr. Wilson's bill, for the immediate employment of the national power in the most efficient directions for suppressing the abuse of our national name by the scoundrels who are daily prostituting the one and the other in the reckless pursuit of their cruel and cowardly trade.—*N. Presidential Election!

THE GREAT CAMPAIGN
OF 1860 OPEN!!

Let Every Republican Prepare for the Conflict!!

Circulate Truth among the People!!

THE WEEKLY SENTINEL

Six Months for Less than Cost of Paper and Printing!!!

READ AND BE CONVINCED!

The present campaign is to be a memorable one. The battle will be fought zealously between the friends and the enemies of Freedom, and the ground contested inch by inch. In view of these facts, it is apparent that the dissemination of Republican papers and documents becomes of vast and vital importance. In order to furnish the WEEKLY SENTINEL to the people of the North-West, during the Campaign of 1860, we have concluded to offer the paper, FROM THE 1ST OF JUNE TO THE 1ST OF DECEMBER, at the following unprecedented liberal terms:

One Copy for - - - - -	$0 50
Twenty Copies, (to one address) -	$9 00
Fifty " " " -	$20 00
One Hundred do " " " -	$35 00

These terms will barely cover the cost of paper before it is printed; but we have determined to put the price so low that every individual Republican, or organized Club, in this or adjoining States, will use their best endeavors to scatter the SENTINEL broadcast in their particular localities, and thus accomplish more than by the circulation of ten times as many documents in any other form. Every Campaign subscriber will receive the full returns of the election in November.

We need not urge upon our Republican friends the importance of placing this sheet in the hands of all. Let no voter, or family in the State, be without the SENTINEL during the Campaign. Wherever facts are read and the people have access to truth, Republicanism prevails.

Send in your orders as early as possible.

Address JERMAIN & BRIGHTMAN.

MONETARY.

WEDNESDAY, P. M., June 6th, 1860.

The banks quote Exchange steady at 1/2 @ cent premium. Currency in good supply, and good commercial paper readily negotiated at 10 @ cent.

The Chicago Press & Tribune of this morning says:

The market for exchange is growing easier every day, and this morning some of the bankers proposed to concede ¼ from current rates, viz: 1¾, but the majority were opposed to the change. The closeness of the market in neighboring cities induced the fear that our surplus here would at once be drawn down if a decline was permitted. The demand is now comparatively light, and if the market continues to improve, present figures cannot be maintained beyond the present week.

Currency is still abundant, and large amounts of produce paper would at once be taken. Local accommodations are offered only to a limited extent, and to best customers.

Gold 1¼ with few sales. Outside the bankers there is very little doing and rates are nominal at 1@1¼ per cent. per month.

We have the following money and stock quotations by telegraph from New York to-day:

The New York wheat market to-day, according to the telegraph report, closed firm, with sales of Milwaukee club at $1,30, and Iowa spring at $1,31; flour a shade easier.

In the absence of any advices from New York, during the early part of the day—the telegraph wires not working—the wheat market was rather inactive, 1¢ @ 03¢ being the outside figure that buyers would pay for No. 1 in store. Subsequently, however, the market became firmer on the receipt of the New York report, and this afternoon, we know that, at least, 17,000 bus No. I sold at $1,11 on board, equivalent to $1,09 in store. The sales reported amount to some 27,000 bus, at the following range of prices: $1,07 for No. 2 in store; $1,08@1,09¾ for No. 1 in store; $1,09@ 1,09¾ for No. 1 delivered; $1,11 for No. 1 f. o. b., and $1,10 for sample lots a shade better than No. 1 delivered. Towards the close the market evidently had a slight upward tendency.

Flour was heavy, and it would have been difficult to find any purchasers to come up to the prices that have been ruling for the past few days. About 900 bbls changed hands, but the only important sale was on private terms. The prices reported range from $4,00 for common, to $4@5,30 for medium to good Extra country.

Coarse grains were quiet. Small sales at 31@31½c for Oats; 47c for shelled Corn, and 72c for Rye. Some ¼ blood clean Wool sold at 30c.

The only change in freights is a decline of ½c in rates on wheat to Oswego, vessels being offered to that port at 7c. The schrs. Pioneer and Mosseppa are loading for Buffalo at 4½c. Rates on flour by steam:

To Buffalo (nominal)	25c ⅌ bbl.
To New York	60c do
To Oswego	40c do
To Ogdensburgh	45c do
To Boston, (via Ogdensburgh)	50c do

RECEIPTS OF FLOUR AND GRAIN AT OSWEGO.—The following table from the Com. Times shows the amount of flour and grain received by lake at Oswego, from different States and Canada West during the month of May. The receipts from Toledo are put to the credit of Indiana, but a portion of them are undoubtedly from Ohio and Southern Michigan:

CHICAGO MARKET, JUNE 2ND.—Receipts of the articles named, at Chicago, yesterday, were as follows:

Flour, bbls	1,932
Wheat, bus	19,000
Corn, bus	15,881
Oats, bus	497
Barley, bus	925

The Press & Tribune says:

The Corn market to-day was very firm, under a continued activity among speculators, and prices advanced about ½c. At the opening there was a limited demand for shipment, but as soon as the New York dispatches were received they withdrew from the market, and it closed quiet but firm. Sales amounted to about 70,000 bus, at 31c for River Yellow in store; 30½@31c for River Mixed f. o. b.; 31c for No. 2 Canal afloat; 47½@48c for No. 1 in store; 45½c for No. 2 in store; and 46c for Rejected in store. Wheat opened with a good shipping demand, and the market advanced ½@1c, but it closed quiet and rather weaker with sales of about 28,000 bus at $1,05@1,07 for No. 2 Spring in store—the bulk of the transactions being at $1,06. Flour dull and market was quiet and firm, with limited transactions at $5@5,25 for medium to choice Spring extras, and $5,75 for common Superfine. Oats were inactive—buyers and sellers being still apart. Rye 71c. Barley quiet.

Freights are inactive, and the only engagement reported, was a bark at 3c on corn to Buffalo—which is a decline of ½@¾c.

CLEVELAND MARKET, June 2nd.—The Cleveland Review of Monday reports:

Wheat market steady, holders asking $1,28@1,40 for choice white and White, the demand, however, being quite moderate and buyers scarce. The market in corn is quiet, held at 47c from store. Oats, market dull, holders asking 35c, but find no takers; prices will probably have to come down to about 32c before any sales can be effected.

WHEAT—Sales 1,000 bus lied at $1,25; one car do at same; one car mixed at $1,30; and two cars Milwaukee Club from store at $1,20.

CORN—Sales 2 cars at 47c, f. o. b.

OATS—No sales—holders asking 35@36c, and no buyers.

FLOUR—Sales 100 bbls at $5,50@5,75 for Extras and XX from Red Wheat.

PORK—Small sales Mess at $16,50; sales of 3,000 lbs choice Shoulders at 7½c; 400 do at 7½c; 2,400 lbs Hams and Shoulders, country cured, at 7@9c, and 500 lbs of Sides at 8c.

BOSTON MARKET, JUNE 2D.—(Reported for the Boston Courier.) The receipts since yesterday have been 635 bbls Flour, no Corn, 6,055 bus Oats, and 2,000 bus Shorts. There is no change in Flour, and the demand confined to small lots as wanted by the trade. The first lot of new flour of the season was exhibited this Change to-day, by Messrs. Thayer, Brigham & Field. It was manufactured from white Wheat grown on the plantation of Dr. W. Daniel, near Savannah, Ga., at Stovall's Excelsior Mills, Augusta, Ga. The quality of the flour is pronounced by all who examined it to be very superior. We quote common brands Western at $5,20@5,25; fancy brands at $5,50@5,62½; extras at $5,75@6,25; and Superior at $6,50@7,50. Canadian flour is quiet and steady. Louisiana flour is quiet at $6,25 for fancy; $6,15@6,25 for extras; and $7,50@8,50 for superior ⅌ bbl. Corn is dull, and sales have been small as to-day, at 70@72c for Southern yellow, and 70c for Southern and mixed ⅌ bus. Oats have been sold at 47@48c ⅌ bus for Northern and Canada, and 42c for Prince Edward Island. Rye is quiet at 90c ⅌ bus. Shorts $21@22; and Fine Feed $16@18 ⅌ ton. Provisions—Pork is steady, at $16@16 for prime; $18-50@19 for mess; and $20@21 ⅌ bbl for clear cash and 4 mos. Beef ranges from $9,00@12,50 ⅌ bbl for Eastern and Western. Lard $12@12½c ⅌ lb, cash and 4 mos. Butter is selling at 16@18c for good and choice, and 10@14c for common.

CLEVELAND WOOL DEPOT—JUNE CIRCULAR.—The quietness which has prevailed in our Wool market, for some time past, owing to the limited stock on hand, is now being changed to activity, though prices as yet are unsettled. The usual number of buyers are reaching their spring quarters, each views somewhat conflicting as to price, some claiming that wools must be bought at five cents below last year. Some of the more liberal ones regard last year's opening figures as quite too influencing. From present indications, the wools will be taken very freely, especially if holders meet the prices now talked of, and owing to the unusual scarcity of money in the West, a concession will undoubtedly be made by many growers, rather than wait for more established rates. We do not look for a material change in the price of our grades from last year.

The receipts of new wool at the Cleveland Wool Depot, in 1858, commenced May 11; in 1859, May 20; in 1858, June 8; in 1858, May 26; in 1859, May 19; in 1860, May 19.—[Goodale & Co., Cleveland, June 1, 1860.

Same time '59	92,296,588	17,028,000	11,495,000	15,000

LUMBER.—The market during the past week has been quiet and without stagnant. The stock of lumber here does not accumulate, and dry boards are getting scarce. Stock boards are in good request, and sales are made from the yards at $9@10 for dry. There is little call for dressed flooring qualities, and in addition to the cargo which was shipped some time ago for New Haven, Conn., we hear of two or three cargoes to be shipped to the Albany and Boston markets. This is rather a new feature in the lumber trade of Chicago; and dealers can draw a lesson from it which may prove of value to them.

The receipts of lumber during the week, as may be seen from the table given above, amount to about 5,- 000,000 feet, in the corresponding week of last year the receipts were 11,000,000 feet. On the car receipts from this date increase materially, it is feared that we will fall short of last year. By the latest accounts, however, we learn that the logs are being got down the Muskegon and Grand Rivers, and that nearly all the small streams have been swollen by the recent heavy rains. From the St. Clair River we learn that the drive of Black River and its tributaries had risen, and nearly all the logs were cut down. So all that is required to ensure briskness in the lumber trade is good crops this season and fair prices for the product.

VESSELS PASSING DETROIT.—The following vessels passed Detroit during the 24 hours ending 1 P. M. yesterday, Tuesday:
